THE BRITISH INSTITUTE OF PHILOSOPHY

Appeal for New Members and Donations

The Council appeals to members to do all in their power to introduce new members in order to extend the benefits of the Institute and to increase its revenue.

The Institute has no endowments, and its work, which includes lecture courses and meetings for discussion in the various Centres, as well as the conduct of the Journal, cannot be carried on from revenue derived solely from subscriptions of £1 1s. per annum. The Council, therefore, appeals for donations, small or large, from sympathizers with the Institute's aims.

QUESTIONNAIRE

RECENTLY a small group of psychologists and philosophers drew up a double questionnaire designed to discover whether there is any correlation between the philosophical beliefs of an individual and his psychological "make-up."

The British Institute of Philosophy has been asked to acquaint its members with this piece of research and to request those philosophers who are willing to help in the investigation to apply for a copy of the questionnaire to Mr. J. S. L. Gilmour, 48, The Green, Kew, Surrey.
